Subject: Invitation for New Generation Ideation Contest - 2021

Dear Sir / Madam,

It is our great pleasure to announce that HPCL Green R&D Centre, Bengaluru is organizing the 3rd "New Generation Ideation Contest" (NGIC-2021), as a part of its constant endeavor to provide a platform for innovative and ground breaking ideas. On behalf of HPCL Green R&D Centre, it is our pleasure to invite you and students & researchers from your esteemed institute to participate in this prestigious contest. Preceding versions of the contest, were received with great enthusiasm from students and researchers alike. An abundance of innovative ideas were received from entire span of the country and the event culminated in several ideas being recognized and rewarded.

Keeping with the proud traditions, the contest aims to inspire students and researchers to provide creative, out of the box solutions to today's burning energy and environmental challenges under the fast-evolving technological & socio-economic landscape. We request you to visit <https://www.hindustanpetroleum.com/ngic21> for further details and idea submission.

At HPCL Green R&D Centre, we are committed to work towards energy security without compromising environmental concerns. Through this initiative, we welcome all innovative ideas that would shatter conventional barriers and open up new horizons to explore in energy research. We look forward towards whole-hearted participation in NGIC-2021 from your institute.

If you have any queries, please feel free to contact us directly (contact details mentioned in the brochure and also in <https://www.hindustanpetroleum.com/ngic21>).

Thanks and regards,

S. Bharathan
