Thiruvananthapuram

Dated: 29.07.2021

CIRCULAR

Sub:- APJAKTU-Conduct of classes for various courses of the programs in online mode during the lockdown period – reg.

Ref :- Circular No. KTU/AC1/217/2021 dated: 25.05.2021 pertaining to the issuance of guidelines for the conduct of academic activities in the digital mode.

Vide the reference cited above, the University has issued guidelines for the conduct of academic activities during the pandemic period in the digital mode. It was intimated that Heads of Departments are to prepare regular weekly schedule for online classes and the same are to be scrupulously followed without changes. It was also intimated that each course shall be given appropriate number of slots in the regular weekly schedule based on the approved scheme of each course.

The circular cited above provided that the academic session in June 2021 shall also be continued in the online mode, as offline classes could not be conducted, as of now. As all of us are aware, the current situation does not permit the conduct of regular contact classes including lab sessions.

The classes for the current running semesters shall be resumed (classes were discontinued due to odd semester examinations) in online mode immediately after the ongoing odd end semester examinations. It is hereby informed that lab sessions are also to be completed by using virtual lab facilities/demonstrations/illustrations or by any method suitable for the successful conduct of lab course in online mode, including its evaluation. Internal marks are to be finalized after online evaluation. Students shall be given the opportunity to practice the lab sessions, once normalcy prevails or decided accordingly.
